Bottled Up!

this case the straight way was the Whether in the form of pill powder or liquid, the doctor's prescription for blood diseases is always the same-mercury or potash. These drugs bottle up and poison and dry it up in the pratem, but they also dry up the marrow in the bones at the same time.

The suppleness and elasticity of the foints give way to a stiffness, the rack-contagive way to a stiffuesa, the racking pains of rheumatism. The form gradually bends, the bones ache, while accrepitude and helpleasness prematurely take possession of the body, and it is but a short step to a pair of crutches. Then comes falling of the hair and decay of the bones,—a condition truly herrible.

Contagious Blood having been treated to some sort of curse chemical that prevents its coming out of mankind-is the of curl. Winds may blow upon it, most horrible of all diseases, and has always baffled the doctors. Their pot-ash and mercury bottle up the poison, heir of this admirable arrangement. but it always breaks forth again attacking some delicate organ, frequently throat, filling them with eating sores. S.S.S., is the only known cure for this disease. It is guaranteed purely vege-table, and one thousand dollars reward is fered for proof to the contrary. It hever fails to cure Contagious Blood Joison, Scrofula, Eczema, Rheumatiam, Poison, Serofula, Eczema, Kneutof Cancer, or any other disease of the blood. If you have a blood disease, take a remedy which will not injure you. Beware of mercury; don't do violence fo your system. Don't get bottled up! Our books sent free to any address. BLACKWILL'S DURHAM TOBACCO COMPANY,

A monarch of such remarkable idiosyncrasy as was King James, as displayed in his creation of a new and lucrative business for the sale of distinguished titles and high offices of state, where he himself possessed the sole monopoly, would naturally see his way bair or her wheel. A beneficent to a further stroke of "good business" in the tobacco market, says the Gentle ever, and invented a bloycle bang that man's Magazine. Accordingly, we are not surprised to learn that, viewing with a jealous eye the flourishing state of the new industry, the idea occurred to him or his ministers that the state coffers might be replenished by taking a still deeper interest in the weed, Hence the issue of a royal proclamation to his loving subjects that they were ferbidden to deal in tobacco unless they purchased royal letters patent granting them a license to do so. These even take a header without turning a could only be procured, on payment of a yearly sum, from the persons who The bicycle bang goes ahead of any farmed from the king the right to enforce and collect the tax. In the "Statford Letters," compiled by Gerrard, relating to the collection of the new tax, There are so many people whom it is stated that "some towns have yielded twenty marks, 10 pounds, 5 once a week, but who are only liked pounds, 6 pounds, fine, and rent; none goes under. I hear that Plymouth hath yielded 100 pounds and as much yearly cent. * * The tobacco licenses If a wife would be as good to her go on apace; they yield a good fine, and husband as she is to her mother, the a constant yearly rent."

In some instances a life lease to deal in tobacco was granted on payment of a lump sum. As to the king's method of dealing with state affairs of the kind, When a woman whitewashes her let Sir Anthony Weldon speak from cellar, she is said to look worse than personal knowledge. He says of the king that "he was so crafty and cunning in petty things, as the circumventing any great man. He had a trick of cousen (cozen) himself with bargains under hand, by taking 1,000 pounds or 10,000 pounds as a bribe, when (at the illustrated monthly newspaper pub- same time) his counsel was treating lished by the Chicago, Burlington & with his customers to raise them to so much more yearly; this went into his privy purse; wherein he thought he had overreached the lards, but consented himself; but would as easily break the bargain upon the next offer, saying he was mistaken and deceived, and therefore no reason he should keep the bargain. This was often the case with the farmers of the customs."

There is a document in the state archives which throws a curious sidelight on the king's ideas of witcheraft. The settlers in Guiana had become tobacco planters and required a trade charter with this country. A charter was granted them, in which a clause was inserted to the effect that onetenth of the tobacco grown there should go to the king. Thus, in a round-about way, he king became a tebacco mer-young physician was tired when he returned from his evening's mils, but as he settled back in his sasy chair, and his pretty wife of only a month or two took a seat beside him, he asked affectionately:

"Lnd has my little wife been louely?" "Oh, no," she said, animatedly; "at least, not very. I've found something to busy myself with."

Indeed!" he said. "What is it?" "Ob, I'm organizing a class. A lot of young girls and married women are is it, and we're exchanging experiences a) I teaching each other how to cook." What do you do with the things you cook?" he asked interestedly.

"Oh, we send them to the neighbors just to show what we can do. There's oas lodging house gets most of it. It's great fun."

"Dear little woman," he said, tean-ing over and kissing her. "Always thoughtful of your husband's practice. Always anxious to extend it." -Banger Commercial.

No Pants. The social status of trousers was settled in Boston a long time ago. The elegant and correct Bostonians pointed out that a dog pants, but a man wears trousers. Others held that these articles of masculine attire were "pants" when they were the hand-medown articls in a ready-made clothing ctore, but the creations of a swell tatlor were "tronsers." In New York Mr. Roosevelt has made an important decision on this subject. He has ordered that the vulgar word "pants," referring to bifurcated garments, shall not occur in any report made to the police department. The police are to officially speak of their nether cothes as "trousers," or cise be silut on the What Teddy Roosevelt says goes in New York, and from this on 'punta" will be the exclusive property of dogs, who can have them creased or not, as the weather permits.
